

PUSH-UPS

VISUALS

For Session XIV

26. Doodle tribute to famous raconteur. Who?

ANSWER

Jean de al Fontaine.

27. Not so much a rude gesture as a belated discovery. Beside what would you find this?

ANSWER

The Winged Victory of Samothrace.
This piece fell off while it was being brought to France

28. Wedding photo of sorts. ID.

ANSWER

Draupadi and the Pandavas,

29. If this isn't a tribute to the Kamasutra, what is it?

ANSWER

Kabaddi

30. Conventional representations of a certain founder. Who? What did he found?

ANSWER

A

SiddhendraYogi, creator of Kuchipudi

31. What two elements were abstracted from here?

ANSWER

This is a model of Rodin's Gates of Hell.

Both The Thinker and The Kiss went on to separate lives

32. Tribute to a minimalist tribute. Identify everything.

ANSWER

Don Quixote by Picasso

33. Character on the right is modelled on whom?

ANSWER

Sean Connery

34. Tribute to which real-life person?

ANSWER

Antoine de Saint-Exupery

35. Something about the rest of Victor Noir's statue is apparently responsible for what we see here. Explain?

ANSWER

On account of a superstition that rubbing themselves against him could rid women of their infertility.

36. Sometimes called a coy duck. Sometimes called a _ _ _ _ duck on account of the purpose it is put to. What is this name?

ANSWER

Call duck, because it would call to wild duck and lead thus to their capture/shooting

The other name, coy duck, comes from Decoy Duck.

37. The muselet, seen here, was designed to solve what practical problem? Be specific.

ANSWER

To prevent the popping of corks in champagne and sparkling wine as pressure began to accumulate in the bottle

38. CGI challenge. At recreating something called Gusteau's kitchen. From where?

ANSWER

The film Ratatouille

39. What is happening here?

ANSWER

Eating an Ortolan bunting steeped in Armagnac.

The taste is so decadently good that the eater must hide from God while doing so.

40. Identify person seated below this Abdel Abdessemmed sculpture?

ANSWER

Bruno Materazzi

The sculpture pays tribute to Zinedin's Coupe de Boule moment at the 2006 World Cup.

41.

At which location?

ANSWER

Notre-Dame of Paris

42. Use background to identify person.

ANSWER

Photographer Annie Leibovitz

43 What is the subject of this caricature?.

ANSWER

The Phylloxera bug—the French wine industry nearly collapsed after this bug began attacking their vines. Eventually, the Great French Wine Blight was checked by creating a hybrid, resistant vine

44. For a traditional purpose. What? What is it made from?

ANSWER

For playing a Sarod.

Made out of coconut-shell

45. Reunion after roughly thirty years in slightly happier circumstances. Name both individuals.

ANSWER

Zola Budd

Mary Decker Slaney

46. What is this musical instrument called? Or, from what ordinary tool is it derived?

ANSWER

Chimta

Tongs

47. Who issued this ad?

HORRIFYING

MORE HORRIFYING

EXPLOITING THE ECOSYSTEM ALSO THREATENS HUMAN LIVES.

FOR A LIVING PLANET: WWF.ORG

48. Identify and connect the two pictures.

ANSWER

A: Apollo slaying a monster at Delphi.

B: A Burmese Python.

The monster slain in myth was known as the Python, thus the name.

49. What does the chart help us identify?

ANSWER

The Dingo of Australia

50. This species takes its name from a plant species. We usually think of it in another form. What is the species/what does it take its name from? And what is the form we normally think of?

ANSWER

Bombyx mori—mori after the Latin morus for Mulberry.
This is the Silk Moth; hence Silkworm.